ARGUMENT STRUCTURE: CLAIM, WARRANT & IMPACT

Highlight the claim in yellow, the warrant in green, and the impact in blue!

ARGUMENT 1

Predictive policing disproportionately targets African Americans, since, as Reich 2018 explains, the data used by officers is built off of previously racist policies. Thus, predictive policing leads to the perpetuation of structural violence.

ARGUMENT 2

More democracies are necessary to uphold the liberal international order as democracy prevents war since authoritarian states don't have the necessary checks and balances to prevent worldwide conflict - that's Molrese 2017.

ARGUMENT 3

According to Powell 2016, nuclear weapons reduce interstate conflict by up to 5%, meaning nuclear arsenals prevent war. Since war leads to political violence and loss of life, negative upholds my value criterion.

Match the claim, warrant & impact!

1

McFayden 09 explains that state sponsored terrorism is the biggest threat - it makes terrorist organizations better funded, well organized and well informed.

2

Giving military aid to authoritarian regimes reduces terroristic influence.

WARRANT

3

Bapat 11 notes that military aid disincentivizes host countries to negotiate with terrorist groups.

IMPACT

round 2:

1

Abused women with substance use disorders have a harder time escaping because, as Raven 97 explains, many shelters have policies against accepting drug-affected women.

2

The criminalization of substance use disorders disproportionately affects abused women.

3

Sidibe 2016 explains that women who use drugs experience higher rates of abuse.
